SENATE PROBES IN STRIKE ZONE

Kenyon, McKellar, Sterling, and Phipps Visit Homestead Mill.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10.—First-hand probing of the steel strike was to begin with the arrival of the Senate Labor Committee here today.

Senators, headed by Chairman Kenyon, arrived on an early train and prepared to visit steel towns in the Pittsburgh district during the day. McKellar, Braddock, Duquesne and Homestead are on the slate, but it was doubtful if the committee could cover all the ground marked out.

Senators plan to go into the mills and question workers. They will knock unannounced at kitchen doors of strikers' homes and find out for themselves how families are living. Housewives will be asked whether their husbands' wages are sufficient.

Conditions of the foreign workers will also get close attention. Senator Kenyon is convinced that Americanization legislation must be one of the results of the Senate investigation, and he will gather ammunition for his fight today.

Only Four Members Arrive.

Only four members arrived this morning—Chairman Kenyon, Iowa, McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, and Phipps, Republican, Colorado. Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, will arrive tomorrow.

Kenyon's program calls for personal investigation of the steel towns today; hearings here tomorrow and Sunday; and a hurried trip to Youngstown Monday. The committee may go on to Gary and the Chicago district if members are sure no treaty vote will take place during their absence.

First evidence was received by the committee from Mayor Babcock, who met the party when it arrived at the hotel. The clippings largely of newspaper editorials which have received but little circulation outside of Pittsburgh.

After breakfasting the committee visited the Homestead steel works, where they were welcomed by the steel officials.

Go Through Mill.

The committee was permitted to go through the Homestead mills, but newspaper correspondents were stopped at the gates by armed guards. No reason why they were detained was given.

Senators were unaware of a slight disturbance which occurred as they entered the Homestead mills. According to police, two men were brawling and were ejected from a street car just as it passed the mill entrance. The men continued their fighting on the street until arrested by police. A revolver is said to have been found on one man.

MOVIE HOUSES SPRINGING UP ALL OVER ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 10.—In spite of the high cost of building materials erection of new moving picture houses progresses at a faster pace than any other kind of construction. Because of this building for pleasure, while there is crying need for homes, inquiries have been started to see whether the government can stop the building of "kine houses" and divert materials to housing. No such power exists, and Dr. Addison may appeal to Parliament for power to safeguard his housing scheme.

THIEVES KIND TO KIDDIES, BUT ROB DADDY OF $27

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 10.—Two men in an automobile blocked the path of Frederick B. Tressler here. One of them got out and covering Tressler with a revolver ordered him to put up his hands. Tressler's two children, who were in the car with him, began crying.

"Don't cry," one of the robbers said gently. "We won't hurt your daddy." There addressing Tressler: "We are sorry to have to do this."

Whereupon he relieved Tressler of $27.

DIXIE VETS WANT LEAGUE RATIFIED

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 10.—Ratification of the German peace treaty and League of Nations covenant without amendments or textual reservations was asked of the Senate in resolutions adopted here at the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

Officers of the organization were re-elected as follows: Gen. K. H. Van Zandt, of Fort Worth, Texas, commander-in-chief; Gen. C. B. Vance, commander of the army of Tennessee; Gen. Julian S. Carr, commander of the northern army of Virginia; Gen. Virgil Y. Cook, commander of the trans-Mississippi department; Judge J. T. Goelick, Fredericksburg, Va., was elected to represent the United Confederate Veterans at the unveiling of the Stonewall Jackson monument in Richmond, October 11.

N. B. Forrest, of Illinois, Miss grandson of the great Confederate cavalry leader, was elected commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

The request that the Federal Government pay pensions to former Confederate soldiers was made on the ground that $65,000,000 worth of cotton was illegally converted by the United States Government during and after the war and never paid for, that the South for more than thirty years has paid out millions of dollars toward pensions for Federal soldiers and that the Federal Government owes the South an unpaid debt of $25,000,000 for captured property which was sold.

WANST LEAGUE BAN ON WHITE SLAVERY

The League of Nations would be put on record as opposing trafficking in women and children, under the terms of a reservation to the peace treaty introduced in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Curtis of Kansas.

The reservation provides that the United States ratifies the League of Nations, article 25, of the peace treaty to mean that the League of Nations refuses to recognize agreements for trafficking in women and children, and will use its influence against such traffic.

BUILDING IN D. C. SHOWS BIG GAIN

Healy's Report Shows Ten Million Expended in Last Year.

Building operations in the District during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, showed a very marked increase over the preceding twelve months, and $10,520,866 was spent on new buildings and improvements in the Capital, which is an increase over last year of $356,400, the report of John P. Healy, inspector of buildings, shows. New homes erected numbered 749.

During the same period, 4,948 permits were issued to build and make improvements. This is an increase of 1,042 over the past year. There were 1,367 brick buildings and 431 frame buildings erected during the year. Thirty-nine brick buildings were raised and 128 frame buildings raised.

Marked Increase Shows.

"Notwithstanding the high cost of labor and material, there has been a very marked increase in building operations during the current year," Mr. Healy's report says.

In Mr. Healy's report, he does not include Federal Government building operations.

The total number of new buildings erected was 1,393. There were 749 dwellings built, twenty-five apartments, and 328 business buildings. This is a big increase over the year before. Last year there were only 957 buildings erected, 529 being dwellings, nine apartments and 419 business buildings.

Here is how the millions of dollars spent in real estate in Washington last year was distributed:

Northeast—For new buildings, $241,680, and for repairs, $113,150.

Southeast—For new buildings, $307,745, and $111,017 for repairs.

Northwest—For new buildings, $2,800,437, and $1,342,260 for repairs.

Southwest—For new buildings, $225,900, and $74,607 for repairs.

Country—For new buildings, $4,715,958, and $480,629 for repairs.

This does not include awnings or signs and several other items.

PARIS APACHES RESUME PRE-WAR STREET FIGHTS

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The pre-war passion of street battles between rival gangs of apaches has been resumed. Recently a particularly bloody encounter took place at the corner of the Boulevard de Belleville and the Faubourg du Temple, a very famous quarter of Paris. The rival factions were the "Wolf Cubs" and the "Boys of Belleville."

They lined up and fired revolvers at each other. Occasionally they got to close quarters, when knives were freely used.

A crowd of cyclist police appeared on the scene and the two rival bands then became reconciled in face of the common foe. They opened fire on the police. The apaches were forced to retire, leaving two of their most seriously wounded men behind them.

LAUNDRYMEN CAN GO TO HELL, SAYS EX-PASTOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The extremists among laundrymen can go to hell, according to Dr. Charles A. Eaton, former pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, in this city. He addressed the Laundry Owners' National Association in convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

He told how his washerwoman of the Eaton family quit cold because she was carried to work in an open automobile instead of a closed one. Eaton said this woman was told to go to hell with the rest of the extremists.

ENGINEER NOW RAISES CHICKENS

Feeding locomotives isn't a good occupation for a man with a case of arrested tuberculosis. Your lungs begin to resent the coal dust, and the strain of heavy lifting, and the first thing you know you are laid up for a long time.

The doctor convinced a disabled sailor that this was true. Before he went into the navy he was a locomotive feeder, and, of course, when he left the navy that is what he expected to do. With a nice little wife he had married in Hawaii, and a baby one year old to look after, he couldn't sit down and read the new books or whittle stick for fun. While he was still in the Navy Hospital he thought about it pretty constantly. He thought about it all the time that he was helping around the chicken yard of the hospital, or doing a little gardening for curative purposes. He especially liked the chicken yard, and had a way of taking the problem around with him while he fed the tiny things.

One day when he was talking to the officer from the Federal board for vocational education he broke off right in the middle of his story to tell about those chickens, and the Federal board agent saw his cue. He asked the officers how this man did with the chickens, and they said:

Gompers' Prediction of "Wonderful Career" for Labor Ship Is Fulfilled

Samuel Gompers, the head of the American Federation of Labor, today received word of the fulfillment of one of his predictions.

When the United States Shipping Board freighter—Afel—which is the code word for the American Federation of Labor—was launched a few months ago at the Hog Island shipyard, Mr. Gompers made a speech at the ceremonies in which he predicted that the Afel would see a "wonderful career"—and it did.

Confirmation of the account of the rescue recently off Halifax by the Afel of the crew of the British freighter Slesergh Castle, which later sunk, was received today at the Shipping Board, and an account of the rescue was sent to Mr. Gompers at the industrial conference.

"Fine. His first hatch was great." Well, the agent asked the sailor that very day if he wouldn't like to go in for chicken farming, and forget locomotives for awhile. He looked as though he had been given a reprieve from "hot at sunset," and was enthusiastic from the very first.

ROBBED OF $48 BY BOLD HIGHWAYMAN

Held up by an unidentified white man at the point of a pistol Wednesday night, Carey E. Quinn, of 11 New York avenue northwest, was robbed of $48. The hold-up was reported to the police last night.

Quinn, according to the police, was on his way to his home when the white man approached him at New Jersey avenue and Pierce streets.

After robbing him, the highwayman ran south on New Jersey avenue and escaped. Headquarters Detectives Barbee and Bradley are assigned to the case.

BISHOP SPONSORS PLAN FOR "ROLLING PULPITS"

BURLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 10.—The Right Rev. Paul Matthews, Episcopal bishop of New Jersey, is sponsoring a plan to teach the gospel in out way communities from a "rolling pulpit."

He has asked the church for $5,000 with which to buy an automobile truck, fully fitted out as a pulpit, with living quarters for the clergyman assigned to the duty of taking the light of real Christianity into the farthest recesses of the countryside.
